

PROFILE: La Magdalena farm

ABOUT US

La Magdalena is a family owned farm for over four generations. Located in Salto, Uruguay, it boasts a temperate climate and green pastures all-year-round.

With 74,000 acres in size, it has 36,000 merino sheep as well as other breeds, which graze freely in the vast extensions.

La Magdalena has very high standards of animal welfare, land management, and of taking care of each worker in the farm. Many have been at La Magdalena for most of their life.

NATIVA
PRECIOUS FIBER

Additional Information

- Number of paddocks: 354
- Rainfall: 1200 mm annual average
  - Soil type: Basalt
- Pasture: 55% Native, 45% improved species
- Sheep breeds: Australian Merino, Dohne Merino, Corriedale
- Stock management: Constantly improving breeds (in quantity and quality) through genetics
- Wool description: 18,2 microns average
  - Uruguay is free from mulesing
  - Shearing shed: July/August

For more information, contact nativa@chargeurs-luxury.com

NATIVA
PRECIOS FIBER